PREPARATION

1. Cook the sweet potato until soft (diced, in the microwave or the oven) and let it cool a little.
2. Chop the mushrooms roughly and sauté them with the garlic in 1 tbsp of the oil for 5-7 min, or roast them in the oven.
3. Chop the mushrooms, garlic and sun-dried tomatoes very finely.
4. Mash the sweet potato with a fork or masher, then mix in the chopped ingredients, the rest of the oil and the spices.
5. Taste and adjust the salt and spices. Chill 30 min so it firms up and serve as a spread or dip.

NUTRITION NOTE

Sobrasada is normally a pork spread: this plant version gets its colour and smoky taste from sweet potato and paprika. Without a blender the texture is rustic; with a food processor, blend it until smooth. Values are per portion (one eighth), without the dippers. Keep chilled and eat within 3 days.
